BARN IS BURNED NEAR DELPHOS

Frank Crawford and John Dull
Are Heavy Losers

FIVE FIRMS ATTACH AUTO

Vocational Training For Nine
Men—Delphos News

DELPHOS — (Special) — A huge barn filled with the season's crops and with farm machinery and implements, burned to the ground and only the fact that the wind was blowing in the other direction saved the house owned by Frank Crawford on the farm between this city and Midway Wednesday night.

John Dull, who resides with his family on the farm, lost his entire crop of oats in the conflagration, thought to have been caused by spontaneous combustion in new hay. Two tractors, a cultivator, a binder and a plow were destroyed. The flames were visible for miles around.

Some insurance was carried on the building.

Attachment proceedings were instituted Wednesday in the court of justice of the Peace, D. M. Bliss against H. J. York, proprietor of the Delphos Hotel cafeteria, by five concerns, all of whom are attaching his automobile. Following are the plaintiffs: H. E. Fisher, $280.14, groceries; Bon Net Shop, $29.15; Delphos Printing Publishing Co., $21.55; J. Fogelin, $15.75; Tracey & Avery, Mansfield, J. I. Long, agent, $46.50. Hearing Monday.

According to John Kane, field agent for the Federal board for vocational training, nine Delphos men have been designated for training with pay, the minimum of which is $100 per month for single men, as follows: John C. Falke, Joseph M. Nemeyer, Kenneth B. Kruttsch, Leonard Maloney, William K. Duntson, Isadore J. Bonifas, Henry A. Wagoner, John Dolt and Neil Allinger. Seven have been appointed for training without pay as follows: Thomas L. Finlay, M. F. Cook, Harry Friend, Paul L. Schosker, Henry Robinson, Lawrence C. Moreo and V. H. Wynn.

Claims for damages in the aggregate sum of $168 were submitted by the landholders at a meeting of the Putnam and Van Wert co. commissioners at a hearing of the John Wellman joint county ditch, Wednesday. The commissioners held up their decision until after the improvement is completed, in order to determine whether legal claims exist. August 18 was set as the date for awarding of contract and August 22 as date of sale at public outcry.

W. B. Jones and son, Dwight, of Van Wert, were here Thursday and took charge of their machine, which was found by police Chief Louis Oelberg, abandoned here on the streets and the absence of which from their garage was unnoticed by the owner. Oelberg prevailed upon him to look for the machine there. An empty revolver was found in the car.

The case of J. B. Jones against W. C. Lewis and C. D. Bevington has been brought up from the court of Justice of the Peace, Burnett of Jennings-tp. on transcript. In the lower court the plaintiffs were awarded a judgment for $182.54, as securities on a note.

J. D. Brittenburg and F. D. Herl of Conroy, have filed suit in common pleas court against D. J. Pugh and C. S. Jones, formerly in the elevator business in Conroy, for the payment of $169.53 claimed for purchases made by the defendants.

Charles Heffelfinger, Middleport, was given a hearing Wednesday on a charge of failure to provide for his family. He was given his liberty upon promising to support his family.

The third degree will be conferred upon a large class of candidates by the I. O. O. F. Friday night. Visitors from nearby towns are expected. Installation of officers will also be held at this time.

STAUFFER TO GET PROHIBITION JOB

Ottawa Man Picked to Sidetrack J. Ed. Russell of Sidney

PATRONAGE TANGLE CLEARS

Senator Willis Lays Off Fight Against Chas. Nauts

CLAWAY — (Special) — What developed into a heavy tangle in political circles in Washington, Colombia, Ottawa and other points, this far to be straightened out and in the adjustment of waiting interests, George Stauffer, Republican leader in Columbus, newspaper publisher and insurance and real estate dealer, is expected to be named Federal prohibition director for Ohio, succeeding out former Congressman J. L. Russell of Sidney, who resigned after the Republican executive committee in Ohio counties.

It is understood here that as a result of a conference in Washington between United States Senator Frank A. Willis and President Harding, Willis withdrew his objection to Charles Nauts, Toledo, for the post of internal revenue collector, appointed by Harding and his confirmation by the Senate is expected soon.

STAUFFER IS WILLING

Stauffer, Willis' choice for the Toledo job, withdrew his name from further consideration in that connection, opening the way for his appointment as Federal prohibition director in Ohio. According to plans worked out, Frank Beggs, of Keeton, will be named for a comfortable treasury appointment and either Fred M. Manning of Cleveland, or Norwood of Canton, will be United States Marshal for Ohio. That is the forecast that is made by politicians of the inner circle.

Stauffer was Willis' choice for the Toledo collectorship, which President Harding gave to Nauts, who was backed by Walter F. Brown, head of the government reorganization program.

The Ohio patronage situation is now expected to clear up rapidly, if Maurice Mueschke and his Cuyahoga-Ohio Republican organization, which backed A. E. Sperry of Cleveland, for United States Marshal, can be persuaded that Sperry can't land the Mueschke organization is said to favor Norwood of Canton.

BUILDING OF SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT WILL BE DELAYED UNTIL 1922

That it will be impossible for work to be started on construction of the intercepting sewer and disposal plant this year was stated Friday, by City Engineer Miller. It will be possible, however, he states to contract for bids and award the contract, so that work may be started early in 1922.

As the project is to cost approximately a million and a quarter of dollars, Engineer Miller advocates advertising the work longer than is usual. Bids from contractors are more likely to be secured, if this is done, he states.

Plans for the system and disposal plant are still in the hands of the state department, for inspection. They have not been approved.

Cleaning the river will not remove the offensive odor, Miller claims. If it would, the city could save money by cleaning it out annually.

DEMURRER BY CITY MAY BE ENTERED IN TOHLE $40,000 DAMAGE SUIT

Whether the city will file a demurrer or not in the $40,000 personal injury suit instituted in common pleas court by Mrs. Anna Tohle, 1427 W. Elm-st., has not been determined by Solicitor H. E. Gattling. Summons to appear in the case as representative of the city was served on Mayor F. A. Burkhardt, Friday.

Mrs. Tohle, the wife of Herman Tohle, foreman at the San Antonio factory, was injured and partly paralyzed New Year's eve, 1920, when a car struck her while walking east on the pavement in W. Elm-st. She was accompanied by her husband on their way downtown to attend an entertainment.

The wife was forced to follow the paying she states in the petition filed in court, because the city had not provided walks for accommodation of pedestrians. She is seeking to collect $40,000 damages to compensate her for injuries incurred. Mrs. Tohle asserts that she has been permanently crippled by the accident.

BOY OF PHONOGRAPH SPELLER LERANON, Mo. — Such words as Mediterranean, pealidli, deuteronomy, tormadachew, acclamation, constitutional, disipation, authoritatively and other, similar words hold no terrors for Fern Waterman, four and one-half-year-old phonograph speller, who lives in the Ozark hills near Eldridge.

Whenever the lad comes to town with his parents, he soon becomes the center of interest. The frequent he gives exhibitions of his spelling powers. One of the things the youngster likes to do is to stand on the station platform and when the train stops to take on water or when while baggage is being handled Fern sells for the passengers.

None of the lawbreakers that so frequently "stump" adults give him any trouble. The lad spells all of them with comparative ease.

TRADE WITH JAPAN GROWS SAVANNAH, Ga. — A significant feature along the Savannah waterfront is the reputation of trade between Savannah and the Orient. Two years ago, after trade had been fairly well established between this port and the Far East, the cotton movement decreased due to the vanishing port and shipping to the Far East became practically a zero. With the reopening of cotton selling exports have begun to increase with Japan and other Oriental countries, again looking to Savannah for cotton. Several ships have recently been on cargo, here to ports in the Orient and four Japanese ships are expected soon to take in cargo, mainly of cotton.

MUST MOVE FAST

Time of Voters in Polling Booth Is Limited

Lima voters had best make up their mind concerning the candidates they wish to have nominated for city council before August 9, before they enter the polling place. That is in any case near the registered strength of the city turns out to cast ballots.

The present registration in the city is close to 1,000 and that number of persons will have to vote in 720 minutes. The polls will be open from 5:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., 12 hours.

On the basis of present registration, the average number of voters in 35 precincts in the city will be about 220 to the precinct. A J. Morris, clerk of the board of elections announced Friday. This means that if everyone whose name is in the registration books votes, August 9, the time allowed for marking each ballot will be approximately two minutes and 15 seconds for each voter.

Some precincts will run over the average and some under. The law contemplates allowing each voter five minutes to make up his mind while in the booth.

The voters will have two ballots to mark, one for commissioners and one for township officers.

EIGHT PUBLIC PROJECTS SOON TO BE COMPLETED

Eight municipal improvement projects under supervision of City Engineer Vaughn Miller are to be completed within the next month he stated Friday.

Sewers in Kenilworth-ave, Highland-ave, Rosedale-ave and Third-st are almost finished.

Contractors will have completed the concrete work on Elm-st, North-st and Metcalf-st bridges by the middle of August. South Broadway paving is to be finished this week. Paving in W. Elm-st, commenced recently, has been completed.

NEW YORK — The Bethlehem Steel Co. declared its regular dividend of 1-4 per cent on both classes of common stock.

LIMA'S HEALTH IS BEST IN YEARS

City Health Head Reports No Summer Contagion

Persons who are not required to do so should not work in hot weather, is one of the admonitions given by Dr. J. B. Polling, city health officer, in advising the public how to stay well when the mercury flirts around the 100 mark. Dr. Polling qualifies this advice, however, by stating that unfortunately, nearly everyone has to work and in that event not to work too hard.

The shady side of the street is recommended instead of the sunny side when the mercury is high and persons who have been exercising freely and are perspiring are warned to use ice water in limited quantities.

Light meals should be the rule for summer weather, with the quantity of meats reduced and vegetables and fruits increased.

Lima's health is the best in years, according to Dr. Polling. There are no cases of typhoid in the city at present. Some whooping cough has been reported.

As a matter of precaution, housewives are advised to boil water used for drinking. As far as tests have determined, however, the city water is pure and contains few germs. Swimmers who wish to avoid typhoid are warned not to swallow any of the water in the pools. After water has been used for bathing for a while it becomes impure, at least for internal consumption.

OLD BELL TO RING FOR REUNION AT RECKPORT SCHOOL

The old school bell will ring again at the Little Rockport school in district No. 6, Monroe-up, at 9 a. m., Saturday, August 6th, to welcome all former teachers, pupils and housekeepers back to the old school for a reunion and celebration.

It is the boast of Rockport that their school has turned out more successful teachers than any other school in the county. No set program has been arranged but all who attend the meeting have been requested to bring their lunch, like they used to when they attended the school.

No one will be punished for being tardy, but all are asked to be at the school building when the bell rings. Among those who attended the Rockport school are: Attorneys F. H. Downing, J. W. Kilgore and Eugene Lippincott, of Lima.

HOPIS WILL STAGE SNAKE DANCE

Hold Annual Celebration On Desert

ANNUAL AFFAIR IN AUGUST

Weird Story Of Origin Of Famed Ceremony

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (By Associated Press) — On the Painted Desert of northern Arizona, Hopi Indians next month will hold their noted snake dances, which annually attract thousands of tourists. This year the dances will be held in the villages of Walpi and Mishongvili.

Most people believe the snake dance is a Hopi rain dance. This is not correct, according to Emory Kopta, a seer-priest who claims that the ceremony is a form of Indian ancestor worship. Mr. Kopta has been living in Walpi village for seven years and says the Hopis always hold their rain dances in June and July and the snake dances in August.

CEREMONY DESCRIBED

Describing the ceremony, Mr. Kopta declared the dancers open the dance by stamping upon a plank laid over a pit. This is intended to notify the dead that the ceremony has begun. Between 100 and 150 snakes are needed for the annual dances.

Out of the scores of Hopi traditions has come a story telling of the origin of the snake dance, according to the seer-priest. The tradition tells of a Hopi youth, a dreamer, who once set out to find what lay beyond the far hills. He floated down the muddy Colorado until he came to a land believed to be California. There he met and wed a maiden of a strange tribe and took her back to his Hopi village.

The first children of the young couple were snakes, and the Hopis expelled the two from the village. Then the crops failed, the Indians suffered from starvation and the old village priest said the trouble was brought on by the expulsion. He declared rain would not fall or crops mature until the couple was brought back.

FIRST DANCE

Acting on the priest's advice, the Indians searched the deserts for the two and eventually found them. After leaving the village, the woman had borne human children and these were brought back. But the snake children had glided off into the desert.

In celebration of the couple's return, the Indians danced the first snake dance and, since the snake children could not be found, they brought all the snakes they could find to attend the ceremonies.

OPEN LETTERS

To Soda Fountain Proprietors

FRIENDS: Since the extremely hot weather has driven me to seek refreshment frequently at your stands I have noticed particularly the method you use in washing glasses after customers have used them. In some instances I have had my drink served in a glass another customer had just finished with, the only washing given it being a pass or two thru a non-too-clean tank of cold water where everybody's glass is washed.

There are some folks I do not object drinking after, but I do object to drinking after the entire public. Why not install apparatus in your fountains which would afford scalding hot water for glasses? It would be appreciated by most of your patrons and especially by

LIMA BEANE

To Allen-co Commissioners

FRIENDS: None regrets the unpleasant circumstances surrounding your decision to drop the improvement on E. Kibby-st more than myself. I appreciated your spirit in giving my city a $20,000 pavement without cost to me and occurrences which caused you to stop are deplorable.

I hope you will not hold this deal against my city in carrying out your proposed program of improvements within the corporation. If you decide to resume it, and I urge that you do, I trust certain of my officials will look more to the matter of securing paving than to technicalities, which caused your split.

LIMA BEANE

To Restaurateurs

THE war ended almost three years ago. Why not throw away the old menus with prices in vogue prior to 1919 and get some modern cards which tend toward normalcy?

LIMA BEANE

To Business League Ball Players

BOYS: The regular season for your league is over. I understand, however, that a post-season series to decide the honors is to be played. With the close of the schedule, I want to express my sincere thanks and those of my people for the fine entertainment you have provided for my city this season.

The play was not up to the standard of professional ball, but none expected it. As ball players, you are good business men. All who witnessed the games realized this fact and understood that you were putting an honest effort into your play. Keen rivalry and good sportsmanship provided sufficient amusement, tho the error column quite often was clogged. Lima wants more of this wholesome entertainment next year.

LIMA BEANE

To City Commission Candidates

GENTLEMEN: There is one provision in the charter under which you are running that I hope you will not overlook. It bars the spending of money in your own behalf by yourself and otherwise restrains you from things common in other elections. Violation of this eliminates you from the race.

LIMA BEANE

To the Public

DEAR FOLKS: Just a little appeal on behalf of Claude Zartman and the Faurot park zoo. Claude is street superintendent and has charge of the parks, including the care of the animals in the zoo.

He has a nice collection and would like to have more, but there is no money to make purchases. He is always pleased to receive donations or the loan of any animal or fowl in which the kiddies or the older folks would be interested. You understand, without further words.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Voters

MY FRIENDS: A primary election of unusual importance is to be held in my city on Aug. 9. You, as voters, owe it as a duty to your city and my city to cast your ballots, in favor of those whom you wish to have elevated to office.

Candidates are to be nominated for city commissioner, to be elected in November, as well as candidates for township offices. If you do not participate in the primary election, you have no right to complain if the persons you favor are not nominated.

LIMA BEANE

To Property Owners

DEAR FOLKS: The campaign that has been conducted by the "Better Sidewalks" committee, of my Chamber of Commerce does not seem to have made much of an impression upon some of you, judging from a survey of sidewalks, particularly in the business section.

In fact, the response for new and improved walks has had an eminently better response in the residential section. Much as I regret to mention it, still it is a fact that there are sidewalks in the downtown business section in such a bad state of repair that one is in danger of stumbling and falling unless he watches every step carefully.

It is not too late to heed the appeal made to you. Why not do it?

LIMA BEANE

To Barefoot Boys

DEAR KIDS: I am indeed glad to note that so many of you are getting next to nature in a commendable manner by going about barefoot these hot days and humid nights. Medical authorities agree that the barefoot plan is an aid to health; that life-giving earth current is absorbed thereby.

Enjoy your opportunity while you may. Later, the inexorable law of the conventions will require you to encase your feet in uncomfortable covering, while your heart still sings the songs of youth and you will wish that shoes were never made.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Mothers

DEAR MOTHERS: The mortality rate among babies in my city during the heated period is such as to indicate quite conclusively that you are giving the best of care and attention to the little ones that have been sent to bless your homes.

Frequent bathing, fresh milk, proper clothing and a few other simple rules that mothers know, will enable the little ones to escape the danger of a fatal disease that lurks thruout the summer.

LIMA BEANE

To Warren G. Harding

MY DEAR PRESIDENT: Altho your duties draw heavily on you, I note that you are finding time to run away occasionally and enjoy life in the open, with close friends who are camping out.

This reminds me that perhaps you have never attended a real-for-sure county fair. There is going to be a fair of this kind in Allen-co soon. In fact, it's going to be the best fair in Ohio. I'd like awfully well to have you come and visit me that week. Do come.

OLD SCISSORS SAYS:
A girl who has money to burn can always find a match.

IT IS STRICTLY ENFORCED.

It has long been alleged that the United States naval service has been made most attractive to young men; and E. G. T. thinks that the following, from Publication 3, Historical Section, Navy Department, July 11, 1919, proves the case:

"An act authorizing and appropriating for expenses of N. R. F. schools, . . . and enlisted men shall embrace women enrolled in the naval service."

SUM KAT!

From the Hopkinsville (Ky.) New Era, Noah Zark clips this ad: CAT GOT AWAY—Part Maltese, but not solid color. Had been sick and was very thin in flesh. Also showed scars on ears and on right front leg of recent fights. Very intelligent. Last seen near Ninth and Clay streets. If found please call Phone 87.

The "very intelligent" Hen is doubtless the one by which the animal will be spotted.

TO BE SEEN.

THE LAND OF PLENTY

UNDER the Payne rate of 100 per cent on flannel underwear there was an investigation of 120 children working in the underwear mills at Lawrence, Mass. It was discovered in that investigation that only seven of those children had on any underwear at all, and hundreds of other children in that cold New England climate were working in the manufacture of comfortable garments for other children while they, themselves, because of the prohibitive tax of over 100 per cent, were unable to buy them.—Rep. Collier, Miss.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

PA'S INSTRUCTIONS

If it's a dinner or a dance, a well- or a small affair, Ma tells Pa what to say an' do an' how to act when they get there. She wouldn't think of starting out to mingle with the social s-l's unless she'd taken Pa aside and properly instructed him.

"Remember please," she says to him, "the hostess has some claims on you. Do not stay in the smoking room the way you very often do. An' oh, I hope for goodness' sake tonight you will not start to tell those very old an' silly jokes you somehow seem to like so well.

"If Mrs. Ponsonby is there, I hope to her you will be nice. Pay her some slight attention please, although it is a sacrifice. An' don't forget you're getting old."

and almost ready for the shelf, Don't moon around the pretty girls an' make a fool out of yourself. There will be many strangers there, be careful of your speech an' take Good care tonight you don't commit your customary foolish break; Just one word more—if there should be some woman there you think too fat, To dance with her you're duty-bound, I want you to remember that!"

Pa says he hopes that Ma an' he will die together, so that when they start for heaven she'll be along to properly instruct him then;

He says if he must go alone to mingle with the angel throng, In spite of all he's learned on earth, whatever he does it will be wrong.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

When a person complains of dyspepsia or stomach trouble a wise physician seeks rather for trouble in the kidneys, lungs, heart or throat. In reporting observations made in the analysis of the contents of the fasting stomach, Dr. Leimann, Rehms and Hawk of Philadelphia mention that in the last 400 analysis the microscope showed pus present in 147 instances. Now it is certainly abnormal to find pus in the stomach. There are but few diseases of the stomach itself which might give such evidence, say syphilis, cancer and the very rare acute gastritis (which is not at all the trifling upset popularly dubbed gastritis.) Then how did it happen that these pathologists found pus in over one-third of all the fasting stomachs?

They append this interesting comment to their report: "The fasting stomach can be considered as a drainage trap which collects much of the material draining from the post-nasal, oropharyngeal and even the respiratory tracts, and the material which is difficult to demonstrate during the digestive period (that is, in the analysis of gastric juice obtained after giving a test meal), is surprisingly easy of demonstration during the fasting period when, owing to reduced acidity, the cellular picture is often intact."

I find it practically impossible to express a physiological or medical fact here in language which no reader can misunderstand. Let no reader assume from what I have just quoted that this is an argument against fasting. Nor that it is not normal for the stomach to be acid during digestion. The word oropharyngeal means mouth and throat cavities together; and post-nasal means the back part of the nose cavity.

Of the 147 persons who were found to have pus cells in the fasting stomach, 92 were victims of nose and throat affections and 12 had lesions in the lungs or bronchial tubes. The rest had various septic foci or producing conditions of the teeth, gums, tonsils, middle ear or other focus higher up.

It is curious how a sufferer from alleged "stomach trouble" will learn to ignore obvious causes in his own head and waste his life quarreling with items of food or self-drugging with all sorts of worthless and harmful

Kidney and Bladder Troubles Conquered or Money Back

For 20 years, said Dr. Carey, I have been prescribing Marshroot for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price, on the money back if dissatisfied plan. Thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health. Watch the symptoms. If you have specks floating before the eyes, puffy eyes, clammy feet or moist palms, backache or a headache, you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshroot right away.

It has wonderfully benefited tens of thousands of cases of kidney and bladder troubles and is the medicine you can always depend upon. Results are guaranteed.

NOTE: Dr. Daniel G. Carey was a practicing physician for many years and his great prescription, Marshroot, aided thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Hereafter you can always get this effective prescription at Thompson's 3 Drug Stores, Hunter's Drug Stores, and all reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription No. 771. No other medicine can take its place.—Adv.

You had better take advantage of the values now offered you by the Hoover-Bond Company in summer furniture before they are all gone.

Take Evans Triple Phosphates With Meals Gain Several Pounds of Solid Stay-There-Flesh

In one month's time EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES puts on several pounds of solid, red blooded flesh and changes your weak, run-down, nervous tired body into a strong, vigorous, robust one or money back.

Of course medical men are surprised and many are still unbelievers, but the fact is evident to every up-to-date pharmacist that Evans' Triple Phosphates will produce flesh without violent methods, race creams, daily massage or beauty torture.

In order to assimilate the nourishing food thin people daily take into the body and turn it into healthy, red blood corpuscles, the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first class shape and that is one of the first things Evans' Triple Phosphates does.

Evans' Triple Phosphates comes in small tablet form, a ten day's treatment in each box, and one month's treatment is guaranteed to increase your weight at least several pounds, and in ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Thompson's 3 Drug Stores, Hunter's Drug Stores, Butler's Drug Stores and all good druggists have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it, or money refunded.

Even though Evans' Triple Phosphates works wonders in all cases of nervous, digestive and blood troubles, don't take it unless you really desire to put on flesh, gain weight.—Adv.

Lewistown Reservoir Water Held Fit for Bathing

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — A T. & O. C. train was imperiled Wednesday night when a bridge over a ravine near Slater, six miles east of here, burned out. Engineer Bert Woodruff, of St. Marys, was unaware of the bridge being out, but instinctively checked his engine when but a few hundred feet from the chasm. Trains derailed by way of the Big Four until the bridge was rebuilt Thursday.

A 10-acre tract of land near Fryburg, sold in partition, was bought by Matt Schneider, Clara Spidel and Rosa Kober for $7,350.

A representative of the state health department has ruled that the water of Lewistown reservoir is not fit for bathing purposes. District Health Commissioner G. L. Lynn says. It was rumored that the water was germ-laden.

Fire Wednesday destroyed a large barn and a straw stack on the Young farm, three miles north of this city, when sparks from a B. & O. R. R. locomotive set fire to stubble and dry grass and weeds in a field near the railroad.

TOLEDO WOMAN TO AID IN IMMIGRATION WORK

TOLEDO — Miss Bernice Phelps, executive secretary of the Toledo International Institute, has gone to New York where she will study the handling of women immigrants at Ellis Island.

The Toledo International Institute, a branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, deals with the foreign-born women. The work is carried on by women of the same nationality as those with whom they deal. The nationalistic workers, as they are called, are American educated, foreign-born women.

The principle of handling here the foreign born women by an educated American woman of the same nationality is the same as at Ellis Island. Miss Phelps will be closely associated with Miss Ruth Crawford, acting executive head of the department for foreign born women of the National Y. M. C. A. while in America.

After Eleven Years Suffering Mrs. Thos. Fowler Is Restored To Perfect Health By Tanlac

"I never in all my life felt better than I do right now," said Mrs. Thomas Fowler, 509 Melrose Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa., in relating her experience with Tanlac, recently.

"I have gained twelve pounds in weight by taking Tanlac, and am so enthusiastic about this grand medicine that I tell all my friends and neighbors about it. At the time I began taking it I had been suffering from stomach trouble for eleven years, and had given up all hope of ever being well again. I had tried nearly everything, and as nothing helped me, I thought there was no use to take any more medicine. I suffered day and night, was always bloated with gas and had a burning sensation in my stomach, and my appetite was so poor I could scarcely eat anything. A little toast was a meal for me, and if I ventured to eat more, I simply suffered agony for hours afterward. I was pale and nervous, restless at night, and would get up mornings feeling worse than when I went to bed. "But I feel like an entirely different person now, for Tanlac has given me a happy surprise, and I am rid of stomach trouble. My appetite is so good I eat three hearty meals every day, and I always get my good restful sleep at night. I feel just fine, and I wish everyone suffering like I was would try Tanlac, for I feel sure it would help them like it did me."

Tanlac is sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Stores, and by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

KING CALLS LORD NORTHCLIFFE LIAR

His Majesty Replies to Statement Given Out in U. S.

DIDN'T ISSUE IRISH EDICT

Publisher Says Monarch Ordered Killings Stopped

LONDON — (By United Press) — King George today was drawn into the Lloyd-George-Lord Northcliffe feud.

The Premier, carrying his fight on Northcliffe into the House of Commons, read a message from the King repudiating the accuracy of a statement said to have been made by Northcliffe in America. In this statement, as cabled here, Northcliffe was reported as saying that the King told Lloyd George there must be no more killings in Ireland.

"I hope," Lloyd George told the Commons, "that the King's statement may do something to sterilize the effect of the criminal malignity which for personal ends is endeavoring to stir up mischief between the British Empire and the United States, and frustrate the hope of peace in Ireland."

"The statement," Lloyd George said, "appeared in certain Irish and English papers, attributing words of the greatest concern to His Majesty relating to the Irish policy."

"It is quite possible always to deal with calumnious statements, but these were of the most categorical character, calculated at the present moment to prejudice seriously the Irish settlement."

King George's message, as read by the Premier was:

"His Majesty has had his attention directed to certain statements reported in an interview with Lord Northcliffe which appeared in the Daily Mail and some Irish newspapers."

"The statements are a complete fabrication."

"No such conversation took place, nor were any such remarks as those alleged, made by His Majesty."

"His Majesty, therefore, desires to make it quite clear, in as much as the contrary is suggested in the interview, that in his speech at the opening of the Northern parliament, he followed the invariable constitutional practice relating to speeches from the throne in Parliaments."

In the repudiated interview, Lord Northcliffe was credited with repeating a conversation between the King and Premier in which the King was said to have asked:

"Are you going to shoot all the people in Ireland?"

"No, your Majesty," Lloyd George was said to have replied.

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — A major British political battle was being fought out in Washington today. The feud between Viscount Northcliffe, English publisher and Premier Lloyd George was shifted to Washington when the British Embassy refused to entertain him on his arrival here.

This was considered retaliation for Northcliffe's editorial condemnation of Lloyd George and Lord Curzon, foreign minister, as being unfit to be members of the British delegation to the Washington disarmament conference.

Denied admittance to his country's embassy—where a dinner in his honor had been planned and then cancelled—Northcliffe gave the United Press a statement blaming Curzon for this development. He also declared incidentally that Curzon is "hostile" to Americans.

Washington diplomatic circles were frankly amazed at the bold Northcliffe strategy. In London Lloyd George and Curzon are surrounded in power by the officials of their government.

In America, Northcliffe has chosen his own battleground where he believes public sentiment is in accord with the most liberal British opinion.

Northcliffe leaves Washington tonight to keep his world tour that will take him thru the British Dominions, including Canada. The Dominion may have a deciding effect on British policy in the disarmament conference.

No statement was issued by the British embassy today.

DIVORCE GRANTED IN TWO CASES

Mrs. Mary Crites and Mrs.
Hutchinson Given Decrees

Judge F. C. Becker entered his decision late Thursday in two divorce cases which he had taken under advisement.

In the contested suit of Mrs. Mary Crites against her husband, Reuben Crites, Amanda-up farmer, Mrs. Crites was given a decree on the grounds of neglect of duty and awarded the custody of their two minor children, Robert, 16, and Kathryn, 12.

Crites was given the privilege of visiting his children at all reasonable times. Mrs. Crites was awarded $5,500 alimony, to be paid in five equal installments of $1,000, beginning October 1. Crites must also pay $3 a week for the support of the minor daughter, Kathryn, until she is 15 years of age.

Crites' cross-petition was dismissed. Rights of his wife in any of his real estate was barred by the court. Crites must pay the costs.

Mrs. Crites sought divorce on grounds of neglect, claiming her husband was cruel to her. During the past three years, Mrs. Crites worked for $1 a day as his housekeeper. When her husband cut her pay to $10 a month, she sued for divorce.

Crites introduced testimony to show his wife was interested in another man. The couple were married twenty-six years ago and are the parents of seven grown children. The case was finished Tuesday, having started last Friday.

A divorce was granted Mrs. Vergie

Hutchinson from Franklin W. Hutchinson, whose whereabouts are unknown, on the grounds of neglect. Because the children are wards of the juvenile court, no order as to their custody was made by the court. The wife asked custody of the three boys, Charles Walter, 8; James Warren, 6 and Franklin Leroy, 4, in her petition.

The case was heard last Saturday. Mrs. Hutchinson said her husband spent his money in ways unknown to her, while she and their children suffered from lack of fuel.

MRS. THOMAS' $20,000 ESTATE IS LEFT TO HER HUSBAND AND CHILDREN

The estate of Mrs. Catherine Thomas, wife of John Thomas, who died July 22, amounted to $5,000 in real estate and $15,000 in personal property, according to documents filed in probate court late Thursday.

By the terms of her will, Mrs. Thomas left the property wherein she resided at 117 N. Metcalf-st to her husband and divided the remainder of her estate equally between her children, Fred B. Thomas, Quaker Hill, Conn., and Mrs. D. J. Welch, Germantown, Pa. At the death of their father, the children share equally the N. Metcalf-st property.

Coluda Derwert, who resided with the Thomas family, was given $200. Fred B. Thomas and D. J. Welch were named co-executors of the will. Charles A. Hoyer, C. F. Bresler and C. S. Baxter were appointed appraisers of the property.

U. S. STANDS BY ARMAMENT PLAN

Will Reject Suggestions For Separate Parleys

FROWNS UPON FOREIGN IDEA

Would Menace Aim Of Meeting, Washington Believes

WASHINGTON (By Associated Press) — It was indicated today that the United States would reject any suggestion for separate parleys with any of the powers invited to participate in the conference on limitation of armaments and discussions of Far Eastern affairs. There was an intimation that at least one of the nations concerned had suggested the advisability of a partial conference.

Secretary Hughes continued today his official stance both on the new phase of the interchange between the governments and as to suggestions that a preliminary conference be held of all the invited powers. It has been made clear in an informal way, however, that the United States is convinced that no real progress can come from such preliminary discussions.

Such suggestions relative to a preliminary discussion are understood to have met a discouraging reception on the ground that it might be interpreted as a suggestion of the main conference. If a suggestion of a preliminary conference is made, it is known that the United States would regard it as a discourtesy to those not invited to attend and one that might well reflect the situation of the powers left on the outside. To call such a meeting by some other name would not be any more satisfactory, it was declared yesterday after its statement it was declared to be possible to recognize a conference with the invited powers.

GAS RATES RAISED

New Cleveland Schedule Filed With Commission

COLUMBUS (By Associated Press) — The East Ohio Gas Co. today filed a new schedule of rates with the state public utilities commission, increasing the rates effective September 1, for natural gas to consumers in Cuyahoga Falls, Garfield Heights, Newburgh Heights, Fairview, North Olmstead and Rocky River, Cleveland suburbs.

The old rate was 37 cents a thousand and less two cents discount. The new rate will be 35 cents for each thousand feet up to 10,000 feet, 65 cents per thousand for each thousand up to 20,000 and 80 cents for all over 20,000. These are gross rates, subject to a discount of five cents per thousand if bills are paid by a certain date monthly.

NO. 13 ISN'T UNLUCKY, BUT IT COST THIS CITY A LOTTA MONEY FRIDAY

Is 13 unlucky? Some persons think so, but City Auditor David L. Rupert had no hesitancy in filling out a voucher when Estimate No. 13 on S. Central-ave relief trunk sewer No. 2 was presented for payment. The voucher for $12,220.98 was issued to the Central Trust Company of Illinois.

"One number is just as lucky as another," said the auditor, crisscrossing his fingers and then tapping on wood. "I don't believe in superstition only sometimes."

The sewer work in S. Central-ave is being done by John Farley.

Final estimates for Holmes-st paving contracts recently completed by Summers & Hardin were also presented for payment Friday. Two sections of the street were improved with macadam travertine from St. John-ave to Rees-ave and from St. John-ave to Carlisle-ave.

SAFER IS INDICTED

Youngstown Official Is Charged With Bribery

YOUNGSTOWN (By Associated Press) — A special Mahoning-count grand jury, at the close of a week's investigation, today indicted James G. Scott, safety director; John P. Frank, secretary to the mayor; Joseph W. West, once a candidate for mayor on charges of bribery and fraud in connection with the liquor traffic.

Twenty counts of bribery were returned against Scott, who was suspended as Mayor Fred J. Warnock, at the beginning of the investigation. Scott and Frank are indicted, also, under a point charge of bribery and fraud. West is indicted for fraud.

SLIGHT RAINFALL OF NO AID TO CORN CROP

Light showers Friday will not materially help the crops in Allen-count, according to County Farm Agent L. S. Van Natta. The clover and garden vegetables may be helped slightly, but it was not enough rainfall to reach the root of the major crop.

Corn, the one big crop that needs rain badly, the crop is reported to be coming and firing in many part of the county and is steadily going backwards, due to the continued dry and hot weather. Most of the oats crop is cut and all of the crop has ripened. The oats yield very light this year, according to reports. Wheat is averaging around 15 bushels to the acre, which is near the average of last year.

SPORTING GOODS STOLEN. A Colt revolver, fishing tackle and various other sporting equipment was stolen from the room of Larson Bohmeyer, 614 S. Elizabeth-st, according to a report given police Friday. The theft is said to have been committed sometime before Thursday night.

WHISKEY MADE ON LONELY ISLANDS

Dry Agents At Toledo Uncover Place Of Manufacture

TOLEDO (By Associated Press) — Prohibition men were conducting a search today for a group of moon-shiners who have been manufacturing corn whiskey on lonely islands in Lake Erie for several weeks, using an old motor dory to transport the still from one island to another.

Prohibition agent visited Turtle Island Thursday afternoon where they found 200 gallons of corn mash prepared for distillation but found no evidence of any still on the island. The mash was destroyed.

The lake moon-shiners have been operating a still on the island for some time, prohibition agent said today. From and other ingredients of the mash used in making liquor are taken to an island and prepared for distillation. When the mash is ready the moon-shiners carry it all to the scene of operations and run the liquor on the island. Then it is carried to the mainland and disposed of. A change of scene made with every run of liquor dry agents said and arrests thus have often avoided.

LEGAL BATTLE OVER BURIAL PLACE STARTS

COLUMBUS (By Associated Press) — A legal battle to control the resting place of John D. McKenna, an officer in the late war who was killed at Chateau Thierry, began here today by his mother, Mrs. Ruth McKenna Lyon, against his father, Daniel L. McKenna. The body arrived at Honesdale yesterday and is due to arrive here tomorrow. The McKennas were divorced last year. Mrs. McKenna claims the father wants the body buried in Honesdale but that the son before leaving for France had expressed the desire to be buried in Columbus. Should he be killed.

CRAVEN TRAGEDY SHOCKS LONDON

Drowning Of Earl Brings Up Old Society Story

WORE BLACK PEARL STUDS

Married Young Daughter of Bradley-Martins

(By MARGERY REX.)

NEW YORK.—(International News Service.)—London is shocked at the tragic death of the Earl of Craven, who was drowned off the Isle of Wight a few days ago.

Waves of excitement which the drowning caused have spread to our own shores, since the late nobleman was connected by marriage with one of the most spectacular families of our social history, the Bradley-Martins.

Martin in a small incident mentioned the ill-fated Earl, at the time of the accident wore his black pearl studs, regarded by his family as the agents of ill-fortune.

Way back in 1893, in Grace Church, the Earl of Craven took for his bride the sixteen-year-old daughter of the Bradley-Martins, Cornelia. Such an immense throng gathered to witness the schoolgirl wed the peer that all order was forgotten. The crowd became hysterical at the sight of such luxury and style and stole side ribbons, flowers and many of the boy wedding trappings.

BELEAVED TRUE LOVE MATCH.

But the marriage, in spite of the more riotous aspects of the actual ceremony, was generally conceded to be a stroke of genius on the part of the bride's mother, of whom her friends said: "She did well for Cornelia." Few outside of Mrs. Bradley-Martin's own circle of intimates had known of the daughter attending school and brought out in time to capture the love of the young Earl.

Yet this was a true love match, so the gossips say.

Perhaps that accounts for the unbroken years of domestic felicity that have followed, until the tragedy of the Earl's death.

The passing of Cornelia Bradley-Martin's husband again arouses interest in that replete couple, her parents, both of whom are now deceased.

Mrs. Bradley-Martin was admittedly a social genius. Her brilliant realization of her daughter's love affair with the Earl was followed by many other bold strokes which raised her to the high position she desired.

ALL WON'T BE FORGOTTEN.

The Bradley-Martin ball has never been forgotten. This magnificent event, which cost a quarter of a million dollars, was given at the Waldorf-Astoria in 1897, and was bitterly criticized by ministers and social workers of that day.

Yet this conspicuous expenditure was not the first England knew of the Martins' lavish spirit. To their numerous purses Coombe Abbey, the country seat of the Earl of Craven, owed its restoration. Although Miss Cornelia Martin brought a full pocket-book to her husband's home it was never believed the marriage took place solely for monetary reasons so far as the Earl was concerned. Nevertheless, his bride's riches helped materially in preserving the fine old atmosphere of the abbey.

THE HOUSE OF CRAVEN

The founder of the house of Craven went up to London as a beggar boy and soon found a fine tailoring establishment and thereby amassed wealth. This was in the time of the Stuart kings. For two successive years he was elected Lord Mayor of London and was granted a knighthood. Thus Sir William Craven bought Coombe Abbey, in Yorkshire, and there his eldest son, raised to the peerage in recognition of his services as a soldier, entertained Queen Elizabeth of Bohemia in her declining years. It was often rumored that he married the Queen, but that has been denied.

CHILD ENTRUSTED TO EARL

This royal lady was the daughter of James I, but her upbringing was entrusted to Sir William Craven, in whom the king had confidence. Thus the child grew up, and later, in the trial of the Gunpowder Plot, it developed that Guy Fawkes and his conspirators had planned to abduct her from the abbey and proclaim her Queen, hoping her father would be blown to death by their machinations. But Elizabeth finally married Frederick V, the last King of Bohemia.

The original building was the first Cistercian monastery, established in Warwickshire, founded by King Stephen in the twelfth century. Henry VIII gave it, at the time of the Reformation, to the Earl of Warwick, and it finally became the property of Sir William Craven.

Viscount Uffington, the only son of the drowned Earl, found his romance, when, during the war, he met and married the attractive daughter of a clerk in Ross-shire.

The Cravens failed to frown on this apparent mesalliance, as they were expected to do, but took their new daughter-in-law to live with them, while their son went to the front. He was sent to France with his regiment, where he lost a leg and was badly wounded.

There is a son by the boy's marriage, who will be heir to most of the wealth left by the late Bradley-Martins.

DAUGHTER NOT GREAT SPENDER

Cornelia Martin and the Earl failed, in their own social life, to set such a precedent for spending and sensationalism as did the elder Martins. When Mrs. Bradley-Martin was to be present at the coronation of the late Edward VII, a society journal, commenting on her rumored purchase of a tiara, said: "Mrs. Martin must remember that it is Edward who is to be crowned."

Bradley Martin, Jr., brother of Countess Craven, however, had a jolly Scottish ceremony when he married Helen Phipps, of Pittsburgh. The wedding took place in Scotland, where kilts, plaid skirts and highland flings to the skirl of pipes made an effective and expensive start on the road of matrimony.

Few know what unhappy fate is connected with the inconspicuous black pearl studs worn by the late Earl. There is said to be a legend of bad luck connected with the wearing of these ornaments. It was revived after the news of his death was made public.

MISS CHRISTEN'S SUMMER FROCK OF HAND-MADE LACE

Altho American fashions still keep to simple lines and simple styles, word comes that simplicity is not the keynote of the new French styles. Severity is far from them. Instead there is a conscious turn to frivolity expressed in small things. Ribbons, laces, sleeves and girdles are all helping make the new French frocks more ornate than ever.

Here is a pretty American made frock copied from the French. It is fashioned of embroidery batiste trimmed with scallops and medallions of hand-made lace. The white batiste and lace is combined with colored taffeta and may be combined with any color. Here orchid is used, but navy, brown or any of the pale or brilliant colors might well be used. The taffeta makes the sleeves, bodice, skirt and yoke over the hips. The skirt is full and gathered onto the waistline. The bottom is finished with hand-made lace scallops. For the more formal affairs of summer afternoons and evenings scarcely a more charming frock could be found.

A group of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Charles Hamilton, Bath-st. Sunday in honor of his 55th birthday anniversary. The day was enjoyed informally in music and other pleasures.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Bertha Smith and son, Leo, Frankfort; Mr. and Mrs. Alfie Good, McGuffey; Mrs. Cora Maberry, Ada; Mrs. Rose O'Keefe, Marion; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foltz, Mr. and Mrs. Nat. PLAN IS RIGHT

Bride-to-Be Should Insist On Having Own Home

Two Families Are Seldom Happy Under Same Roof

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a young woman 22 years old and am to be married soon. I think my fiancée's parents are anxious that we live with them. I think my fiancée is somewhat in favor of it, but I am not. I know that we can go to housekeeping because my fiancée has plenty of money. What would you advise me to do?

WORRIED

If you are certain that it will not be necessary for you to live with your fiancée's parents after your marriage, do your utmost to prevent such a thing. Perhaps this sounds rather harsh, but it is very true that thousands of homes and lives have been wrecked by two families trying to live under the same roof. In some few cases two families have resided together for years and have lived happily and peacefully, but in the majority of cases there is no real harmony and joy in such living.

If your fiancée's parents suggest that you live with them, show your great appreciation toward them for their thoughtfulness and kindness, but at the same time be clever and tactful, making them see that it would be better for you to reside in your own home. Always treat all of your own relatives as well as those of your fiancée graciously and respectfully, but try to keep out of their affairs. Always be kind and amiable to them and show a sympathetic understanding on all subjects, which are of a mutual concern and interest, but do not, above all things, permit them to meddle with your affairs, or interfere with your plans. Insist upon living by yourself and thinking your own thoughts.

Dear Miss Smart:
(1) What would be the charges of good undertaking company to make an ambulance drive 10 miles in the country and back? (2) What are the charges a good doctor would make to take charge of a confinement case, such a case 10 miles in the country? A MOTHER.

It would be impossible for me to answer these questions in this column. Since you reside out of town I would advise you to write directly asking information on these subjects.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a girl 17 years of age. I wish to spread God's word among the young people. What can I do to show the young people that they should love God and work for him.

HAPPINESS

The best way in which you can carry out your worthy desire is to lead a clean, pure life, yourself and quickly and modestly set an example for others.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a girl 24 years old. Some 12 months ago I met a young man and have been going together once or twice a week. I do not feel as tho I could be anything but a friend to him and as I always look forward to his calls, I think there is something more than friendship in this? Would it be wiser to allow him to kiss me good night?

BETTY

Let fate decide for you in this. Perhaps you have not been with this young man long enough to know whether you care for him more than simply as a friend. Enjoy his company and friendship and if a more serious and deeper sentiment is the result from this friendship, it will come without any worry or planning on your part. Do not permit the young man to kiss you until he has told you of his love for you and until you feel certain you can return it.

BELL IS TOO LOUD, SLEEPERS KICK

CHURCH BUYS NEW GONG

Please Both Sides With Special
Made Chime

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press.) — Going bell shopping has its difficulties and its annoyances chief of which is the noise made when the wares are sampled. But bell shopping as the means of averting costly litigation is all right.

Recently Albert Kruppendorf, shoe manufacturer, and a dozen other residents of Grandin Road, the exclusive residence thoroughfare of this city obtained a temporary injunction restraining the Holy Angels church in that neighborhood from ringing its bells so early in the morning when the residents were at the top of their sleeping form. It was set out in the petition that the vibration from the bell shook the surrounding homes.

The church authorities rather than contest the suit suggested the ringing of the bell with one of less vociferous tone and the suggestion was accepted by the complainants. They went to a bell making foundry and looked over the stock of bells that ranged from mammoth church bells to cow bells.

"This will show you what my clients have had to contend with," said Col. Simon Ross, who struck a 700 pound bell with a sledge hammer.

"This seems a little too gentle," remarked the Rev. Father Eugene Davis, pastor of the church as he tapped a smaller bell with a mallet. "The ringing of bells is a church ceremonial and why have one that cannot be heard throughout the parish?"

None of the bells was found to be suitable and the foundry company agreed to make two or three bells weighing about one third as much as the present bell and line them with alloy of copper to deaden the sharpness of the sound. They will be ready in ten days. But until they are installed the injunction remains effective.

The SMARTEST of SPORTS TOGS

A WRAP IN ORANGE WITH BORDER OF GRAY BRUSHED WOOL

Sports Togs Add the Needed Touch

If you never don sports clothes for 10 or 11 months of the year you would be making a terrible faux pas to pack your vacation trunk without them. In other words, why take a vacation? Really, though the new sports things are certainly provocative, I know they make me want to know how to do everything—golf, tennis, ride, swim and hunt. In fact, I am afraid I will yield to temptation and make a fearful bluff at all of these things so I may earn the right to wear the clothes.

Mountain or Shore.
Lucile, however, goes one better. She can not make up her mind which of three invitations to accept, one for the shore, one for a mountain resort or one for a real camp in the woods, because she can not decide which clothes she likes the best. And they say we women are not slaves of fashion!

I was with her this week when she went scouting for sports styles. We looked at wraps, for after all, as Lucile says, one must have a wrap for either of the three places. They are absolutely wonderful this year, gorgeous tweeds, and homespuns, and brushed wool things. One I shall never forget: it was of what they called wool crash—and that about tells the story—blocked with bright copper silk threads. There was a close copper felt turban to go with it trimmed with a single pendant tassel of topaz.

Just Meant for It.
"The mountain!" exclaimed Lucile at first sight.

Then the girl showed us a bathing cape of squares of black satin and white tussore all lined with a rubberized orange silk.

"The shore!" said Lucile. But of course she realized that aside from straight roughing it could be worn almost anywhere.

Then we were shown a three-piece suit, knickers, sleeveless coat and top cape, all of a beautiful thistle-toned tweed with overplaid of purple, but the cape being of much heavier weight than the suit.

The Latest Golling Rig.
"The woods!" whispered Lucile. But when the girl explained that the trouser suit was the latest golling rig and that the cape with its fringed scarf for a collar could be used for motor-ing Lucile's mind was again chaos. She leaned toward the shore again when a very new sports frock that needed an audience was shown to us. It was of a new imported very soft leather with nail-head trimming. King's blue silk bound the edges and tiny puffed leather bows ran up and down the front. It was a wonder! I agreed with Lucile one would go anywhere to wear that frock!

We were next enthralled by the wonderful knit dresses that every shop that handles sports things is showing. "Knit things for now?" I gasped.
"Yes, of course," answered the saleswoman. "You will not wear them in the hot city, but where cool mountain or seashore breezes blow. Besides, see how many are being made sleeveless." It's true. They are. And they are so beautiful in fancy stitches and combinations of wools and silks. One in white wool with citron-colored silk was done in a fancy diamond-shaped weave and all edges were bound with a citron-colored two-grain ribbon. They are generally one-piece, but sometimes they use the middy idea and have a long blouse over a skirt knit to look as if it were pleated. Babette.

INVALID CHILD'S WRAP.

So few pretty and practical comforts are made for the little convalescents, so here is a jacket which is sure to be appreciated.

To make it will be required one large ball each of white and color zephyr floss, one pair No. 3 and one pair No. 8 knitting needles.

With white yarn and No. 3 needles cast off forty stitches; knit two, puri two for twenty-two rows.

Change to colored yarn and No. 8 needles. Knit across; next row widen ten times, at intervals; next row plain; next row knit four, then increase at equal intervals ten times, giving you sixty stitches; knit ninety ribs (which takes twice across to form a rib), narrow same as you widen; join on white, knit cuff like first one; sew up cuff and three inches above it; make a cord three-quarters of a yard long; turn over a piece in center of wrap to form a collar, lace it in shape by running the cord through it; fasten tiny tassels to the cord, using white wool; make a pretty little shell around the collar, and it is finished.

It doesn't take a woman very long to discover that she drew a blank in the matrimonial lottery but to her last day she believes that her husband drew a prize.

Lots of husbands wish they had the prerogative of a photographer and could ask their wives to "keep still and look pleasant."

FROCK OF CREPE DE CHINE WITH HEAVY BANDS OF WOOL EMBROIDERY

The Short Coat is of Maroon Velvet. While the Skirt Shows Carpet Stripe.

The accompanying photos show some of the smartest of smart sport togs. The knitted wrap on dolman lines is of orange with gray brushed wool border. The dress of crepe de chine is made a stunning creation by the bands of heavy wool embroidery. Another of its charms is its coolness. As many colors as were in that famous coat of Joseph's are contained in this smart fringed scarf of braid that worn with a plain sweater adds just the right smart touch. A fascinating combination is this short full coat of maroon velvet with scarf collar hung over the shoulder and a snug skirt of the carpet stripe effect.—Philadelphia Record.

The Blondes Lead in Beauty

FASHIONS come and fashions go—except in the color of the hair. Ever since the days of Eve, who, it is said, was fair as honey, the blonde has reigned supreme. Look down the pages of history and you will see her name enrolled in letters of fame, so asserts a writer in the London Daily Mail.

There was Venus, with her golden tresses; Ceres, and Helen of Troy, whose hair claimed the color of ripe corn, and Salome, the yellow-haired. Remember how Byron spoke of his sensations when first he held in his hand the curl from the sun-kissed head of Lucretia Borgia?

Nearly all the famous women of history and the sirens, the eternal enchantress of the past, have been blonde. Queen Elizabeth had red hair. So had the Empress Eugenia. Lady Macbeth, Anne of Austria, Madame de Sevigne, Marie Antoinette were all fair, and many another. And those who were not so gifted by nature called art to their aid.

Right down from antiquity is this noticeable. The raven-tressed beauties used to disguise their darkness with blonde wigs. The Athenian women decorated their locks with strange unguents the fairer to make them.

But why is it that red hair so admired, so sought after? Why is it that poets have extolled the blonde until the word "fair" has come to stand for beauty itself?

Fair hair is usually accompanied by qualities extremely attractive in women. For the blonde is more affectionate than the brunette. Impulsive and jealous, she makes a devoted friend, but a dangerous enemy.

Her skin, too, is soft and silky. Her complexion is lilies and roses. Her blood flows more swiftly and more warmly than her darker sister's.

This is not surprising in the blonde of today. She is a descendant of the red-headed Norsemen, who overran Europe away back in the Middle Ages, the children of the early Vikings, who gave their flaming-haired daughters as wives to the conquered.

And the thirst for conquest burns so strongly in the veins of her progeny that for them to conquer is a natural thing.

The world belongs to the blonde.

When one woman asks another her opinion about a man, you may be sure she has already quite made up her own mind about him.

It is often the worst men who marry the nice women, and they are too bad to realize their luck.

Man tries to live up to his ideals, woman to her photograph.

Tasty RECIPES

Creamed Chicken.

Take one hen about three and a half pounds, one pint of white sauce. Season with white or red pepper and salt to taste. Method—Have a nice hen boil slowly until tender. Remove from bones, being careful to remove all skin gristle and dark veins. Cut into pieces about three-fourths of an inch large. Make the usual white sauce of medium thickness, pour over the chicken, season, heat in double boiler, serve in timbales, patties, or on toast. This will fill 12 to 15 timbales, depending on the size.

Sometimes a can of mushrooms is added, which makes a change. Pimientos and chopped almonds are used also. Celery cut in small pieces, and boiled tender may be added, too. When cooking the chickens put them on in boiling water and boil slowly, this will get them tender. To boil hard will harden and toughen the meat. Hens are preferable. Roosters have so little white meat and lots of sinews. Last week I gave the recipe and minute directions for making timbales.

French Dressing.

Take a tablespoon of vinegar, two tablespoons of salad oil, salt and pepper to taste. Put into a wide mouth bottle and shake until it blends and looks creamy. French dressing must be made and used at once else the oil and vinegar separate. When making at table, stir with a spoon just enough to mix. If using without mixing together, be sure to pour the oil over the article used as a salad, then the vinegar. The oil will cling to the salad and when the vinegar is put on the oil holds it, too. If the vinegar is used first, both oil and vinegar go to the bottom of the plate. For example, boil slowly until tender. Remove from grapefruit or lettuce. When a touch of onion or garlic is liked cut a slice and place in the bottom of the bowl. For garlic cut a clove of garlic in half and rub the bottom of the bowl which is to hold the salad.

Cucumber Pickle.

Gather medium cucumbers and pack in salt, using one cup of salt for three gallons of cucumbers. Let stand two or three days. When ready to make soak over night to remove extra salt.

When fresh use half a gallon of vinegar for two gallons of cucumbers, one pound of sugar, bring to the boil; place half of the cucumbers in and boil just long enough to heat the cukes to the center. Fix the next portion and remove. Pack cukes into jar. Add to vinegar one tablespoon each mustard seed, allspice, cloves, and celery seed, a few pods of red pepper, the hot kind. Bring to the boil and pour over the pickles. Stir once a day for several days, cover and they are ready to use.

Salmon Cakes.

To one small can of salmon add one pint of mashed potatoes, prepared as for table use; add one beaten egg, one tablespoonful of melted butter, salt and pepper to taste (if too dry add a little milk); make into flake cakes; place in buttered pan. Brown in hot oven.

CINDERELLA TODAY

By KUDY M. AYERS

Again an awful silence, and once more he struggled on.

"I didn't know what to do; it was—was a horrible position for me—so I decided to say nothing—but to—just lay a trap. Pauline could hear the quick breathing.

Last night I put 20 lbs. in the top tight hand drawer . . . and this morning it, too, was gone.

Pauline's self-control deserted him; he caught her in a grip that hurt. "I know they treat you badly and I'd have given you anything I got; anything you wanted; I'd have gone to the ends of the earth for you—if you'd just said one word; just let me know myself: I know what it is. I could have understood it only you'd told me."

He was broken and incoherent; almost beside himself, it seemed.

"And you mean—you think that I took it! That I stole your money! How dare you! How dare you! Oh! How dare you! Oh, how dare you! Over again, then suddenly she broke into a storm of sobbing, dry, tearless sobs that shook her from head to foot.

"Pauline, for God's sake . . . said Stanford, hoarsely; he tried to put an arm around her, but she struck at him wildly.

"Don't touch me, don't dare to touch me . . . Oh, if I could only die . . ."

"Pauline, listen to me . . . You must! No—I won't tell you. I don't care if all the village does hear me. He was holding her fast, now, and suddenly she stopped struggling, and angry himself to see that guilt was not the cause of her grief.

"You've nothing to be afraid of; I shan't ever tell anybody—don't think that I shall. I've been half mad all day. It's not that I care for the money—but to think that you . . ."

"You're very sure I did it," said Pauline. Her voice was choked and broken with sobbing.

"What else can I think?" he asked in despair. "Two men were alone in the library and late at night; I admitted to me . . ."

She controlled herself with an effort.

"I'll never forgive you. Never. Never! Never!" she said, shuddering.

Something like a sob broke from him.

Pauline—I'd give my right hand to believe in you. I'll ask your pardon on my knees if you tell me that you didn't do it—but who else is there? Who else could have done it? And then suddenly there flashed into Pauline's mind a conviction on which she was so great that a cry almost passed her lips—Cynthia.

(Cynthia had done this! For a moment everything seemed to swim before her eyes.

"You needn't hold me. I shan't run away, only—don't you think we might walk on . . .?" she said, dully.

He released her and they moved back toward the station.

It was not until they were pacing up and down the draughty little platform that Stanford spoke again. He could hardly control his voice.

"Pauline speak to me—any something—anything! I wish I'd never told you. I wish . . . I thought you could explain . . . I was sure you'd have something to say."

Pauline gave an odd, choked little laugh.

"I haven't anything to say, except that . . . I hope you won't tell . . . Cynthia or Mrs. Boulton . . . They'd kick me out of the house like a shot, and I haven't anywhere to go except to Julia's, and she couldn't afford to keep me. So you see . . . if you tell them—"

"You know I shall never tell them—or any one—"

"No, I suppose you won't . . ."

She laughed recklessly.

"Can people be sent to prison—for a thing like that?" she asked suddenly. It was of Cynthia that she was thinking. A little choked exclamation escaped Stanford.

"You're not afraid that I—have anything of that sort—?" he broke out desperately.

Pauline felt curiously detached; she was thinking about those three pound notes.

"Pauline . . . if you'd just say you don't—hate me too much. I— I'd give ten years of my life to undo this evening."

"It's not your fault," she said expressionlessly. "How can it be your fault if I stole the money . . ."

Some subtle note in her voice struck him with a gleam of hope; he broke out hoarsely:

"If you'll only tell me that you didn't I'll believe you, whatever you say." His voice shook so that he could hardly control it.

Pauline was out of the carriage and out of the station before he could prevent her or attempt to follow. She ran home through the darkness, sobbing and choking.

Pauline passed a terrible night; she walked about the room, half beside herself with misery.

How could she go on living in the house after what had happened.

Mason took the breakfast in and came back.

"You're not the only one with a headache," by the look of it, Miss Pauline, she said. "Capt. Stanford looks half dead! He does too much for a lame man! It's a shame the way Miss Cynthia drags him round every day."

"He isn't obliged to go," Pauline said quickly. "She can't make him go if he'd rather stay at home."

Later on in the morning she followed Cynthia to her room. She laid three or four pound notes down amongst the litter of silver and scent bottles and trinkets.

"I don't want them, she said."

She saw the look of blank dismay that crossed her stepmother's face, and the sudden pallor, but she never hesitated for a moment; she turned and walked out of the room.

She had just tumbled into bed when Cynthia knocked at the door.

"Pauline—why did you give me back that money this morning?"

She answered curtly.

"You know why."

"How did you know?" And—and—does—does—Nicholas know too?" Cynthia asked with difficulty.

Cynthia laid a hand on her shoulder.

"Don't be hard on me, Pauline; it only you knew everything—"

"I don't want to know—any thing!" Pauline answered relentlessly.

"But you won't tell him, Promise me!"

"I don't need to promise—I'd rather die than tell him," said Pauline savagely.

Cynthia gave a broken laugh.

"Really you're quite a good little thing," she said. "I shan't forget you, Pauline; I'll make it up to you when I'm married."

OK JERSEY CEREAL FOOD CO. CINCINNATI, OHIO

Pauline felt her heart beating up in her throat.

"Are you going to be married?"—soon?" she asked with an effort.

"Yes . . . quite soon! In three weeks . . ."

Pauline sat up with a jerk; her cheeks were crimson; her eyes blazed.

"Oh," she said passionately. "Haven't you got any heart after all? You're going on with this marriage—you're going to make every one unhappy—him and Rodney! How can you do it? You'll always feel as you do now, that it's the wrong man you've married. And you're going to spoil every body's life just because of the money—the hateful, hateful money!" Cynthia—she caught the elder girl's hand; she did not realize that it was really of Nicholas she thought and not of Cynthia at all.

But Cynthia would not listen.

"What do you know of such things?" she asked scornfully. "You're only a child—you'd better talk about something that you understand; my dear."

Pauline lay back shivering, and Cynthia went away with a careless good-night.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

It did not take Cherry long to discover that her predecessor had been a woman of rigid views, as far as taste and decoration were concerned. The sunny corner of the shop, which was given over to the millinery department, had always caused her heart to sink in the past whenever she came to Hamlen's to shop. It was so evidently just a place to sell hats—to women who needed hats! And to Cherry's way of thinking, this theory was all wrong.

A millinery department or shop should fairly call to every woman or man passing by its windows, by its daintiness and beauty. She had proven that this could be accomplished with very little expense attached, long ago. Cherry's show windows had at one time been the talk of the town.

Quickly she let her eyes discover all the weak places in the little room, then she set about to make the place beautiful. A touch here, a change there, and before an hour had gone by she had done wonders with the place. Her vase of autumn flowers she set at the entrance, as sentinels and challenges to the world without to enter and see what was within.

Opening a large wardrobe door, she discovered that the former head of the millinery department had been used to making her hats, then hanging them in rows, on pegs, within this wardrobe. This was little short of crime to the very up-to-date Mrs. Randall. Fancy, hiding hats! Still, those hats! Well, hers were going to be charmingly, coquettishly displayed. Not only in the two large windows, but also round the shop itself. She would order tall, graceful stands to hold them on, painted delicate greens and violets—the better to offset her wares.

Filled with her great idea, she called to Mr. Hamlen, Sr., and that gentleman was properly edified at her suggestion. "Sounds mighty fine," he said cordially.

Cherry also urged him to consider gay tapestried chairs and a chic chaise-lounges for the room. Women were always attracted by pleasing surroundings. They were ten times as apt to buy two hats instead of one if they were buying in a place that pleased their eyes and made a good background for them. That was the psychology of women upon shopping bent.

In the midst of her planning, Arthur Jr. strolled up, beaming a welcome on Cherry as he came.

"Morning, Mrs. Randall. It certainly looks as if things were going to move around here! Why, even the girls have taken their cue from you and are beginning to fuss about their counters now. We won't know the old stand when you get thru with us, I know."

Cherry was delighted at his words of praise, and explained at length her plans for transforming the millinery department into a thing of beauty.

"List! Here comes Miss Lottie Perry," said he, suddenly. "She's primed for gossip, too. I can see it behind her left goggles."

Miss Lottie peered into where Cherry was standing in a curious

"CLOTHES" PRAISED HART'S LATEST ALSO GOES BIG

PERFECT detail and wonderful settings, affording backgrounds that are nothing short of wonderful, make "Clothes," the picture that is showing the last part of this week at the Sigma, a success as a photograph.

The plot is there and clothes are featured, but they would count for nothing were the little fine points of the picture missing.

The director must have been an artistic chap, for he left nothing undone that might have added to the attractiveness of the picture. He worked the idea of clothes to such an extent that he even permitted a little technicality of reality to pass his attention rather crudely. It is the scene where those in attendance at the Fashion Ball march gayly down the steps as the hero and heroine, all by themselves, stand silently beside the body of a dead man while the procession passes. Out of the some hundred or more people who march by, it seems rather far fetched that not a one noticed the couple and their crudely hidden secret.

But this may be passed up, with but slight attention, for after all, clothes are the big feature of the picture. It is a style show that the director has tried to put across and he succeeds, altho we think personally that there are much better figures in moviedom than Olive Tell for such themes.

HART AT BEST IN MOUNTED POLICE STORY

A picture that we advise you to see if you enjoy romance of the great outdoors, is "O'Malley of the Mounted," at the Faurot. William S. Hart is the star as a member of the famous Canadian Royal Mounted Police.

There is a touch of realism in the picture that appeals to one. It ends the life would have it end and it portrays the career of one of the Royal Mounted Police in a most interesting fashion.

The picture is full of action from start to finish. There is even a fight between Hart and another actor, which is worth seeing.

NEWS FILMS PLAY A BIG PART

OUR friend remarked last evening as we were watching one of the movies:

"I know a chap who never enjoys news films? Can you imagine it? I think they are one of the best things on the program."

We agree with him heartily. The value of news films presented at the movie houses of this city cannot be underestimated. They give a vivid and actual pictorialization of events that the world over that are most educational. They give the people who do not have an opportunity to get around the world, a chance to see and understand the events of the four corners of the globe. They help to acquaint people with the current affairs of the times.

There is but one criticism we have to offer. It is directed at the alleged humor contained in some of these news films. Jokes on the screen are all right, but when they are presented in letters and not in action, they fall flat for some reason or other.

Why not cut 'em out and use the celluloid pictures—the things for which people go to the movies.

GEORGE ARLISS TO BE STARRED IN A REAL "DISRAELI" PICTURE

IT'S going to be a real "Disraeli" that picture fans will see when the production is finished with George Arliss in the leading role which he made famous on the speaking stage. Mrs. Arliss, who has played Lady Beaconsfield to her husband's Disraeli, will have that same part in the picturization of the play.

United Artists has this picture on schedule for release in the fall. Louise Hugg plays the leading woman's part opposite Mr. Arliss and the other members of the cast promise unusual support. Mr. Arliss's screen interpretation should be particularly artistic because he sells so much on gestures even in speaking parts to get his work across. His mannerisms will be even more effective on the screen.

MAY COLLINS WITH METRO
May Collins, who has quickly leaped to leading woman honors and regular engagements on the strength of the combination of publicity as a result of her friendship for Charlie Chaplin and her beauty and ability, has been drafted by Metro for the feminine lead in George D. Baker's production of "Little Eva Ascends," featuring Gareth Hughes.

MARIE'S WIT
Marie Prevost, who is soon to appear in "The Butterfly," a universal production, was glancing over the scenario in the office of her director, King Baggot, in order to get an idea of the wardrobe required for the picture. When she reached the twenty-fourth change of costume she drawled:

"Say, who wrote this story—Lucille?"

Ruth Renick is featured opposite Buck Jones in "Bar Nothing."

"The Last Trail," Zane Grey's story, done in film will reach the screen as "The Nighthawk."

Casson Ferguson will again be seen with Betty Compson in "The Woman in the Case." Ferguson was cast for a featured role in Miss Compson's former picture, "At the End of the World."

John Frederick, whose farce comedy, "His Back Against the Wall," is being screened by Goldwyn, is a well known New York newspaper man. His real name is Frederick Faust.

George Arliss and Mrs. Arliss as Lord and Lady Beaconsfield in the screen version of "Disraeli."

Q To whom is Jewel Carmen married?

A In private life Jewel is Miss Kenneth Hartman.

Q How old is Peggy Pearce and where was she born?

A Blonde, blue-eyed Peggy was born in Long Beach, Cal. In 1896.

Q What was the first picture in which Pauline Frederick appeared?

A Pauline's first picture was "The Eternal City." It cost $22,000 to produce, which was considered a fabulous sum in those days.

Q How long is a three foot kiss in the movies?

A On the screen a kiss of this film length will last but two seconds. What famous movie star has one of this actress will be revealed in this department tomorrow. Any questions you may want to ask about the movies will be answered in this column. Send them to the Movie Secrets Editor with your name and address. (Copyright 1921, Thompson Feature Service)

BRINGING UP FATHER—

SHORT SHAVINGS

The banquet hall was adorned with many beautiful paintings, and the president of the little college was called upon to respond to a toast. Desiring to pay a compliment to the ladies present, he designated the paintings with an eloquent gesture and said:

"What need is there of any painted beauties when we have so many with us at the table?"

President Bushy of the Chicago City Railways said of a motion picture censor the other day:

"The man is an ignoramus. Most of his kills—and he's killing many, a good film, let me tell you, the mind me of the woman at the military ball."

A lady at a military ball came upon her pretty daughter as the girl was discussing a fist fight which had occurred in the supper room between two lieutenant aviators.

"They did go for each other, didn't they?" the girl said. "What was the cause belli?"

"Here it was that her mother, ceaser-like, hurried in."

"Mibred," she said sternly, "how often have I told you always to say stomach or abdomen?"

The summer boarder leaned on the fence.

"I understand you are trying to sell your farm and all the livestock," he said.

"Yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "The deal has got to cover everything. I've got a mule that I've made up my mind to get rid of, and the old chance of doing it is to put the animal across as an incidental item."

GOV. DAVIS TO TAKE UP CHARGES AGAINST MAYOR

COLLIERIES — Governor Davis plans to take immediate action on charges filed yesterday against Mayor Herbert A. Atherton of Newark. It was learned from administration officials today.

The charges, presented by officials of the Law and Order League of Licking-co, were that Atherton had accepted "protection money" from gamblers and other irregularities. Four affidavits accompanied the charges.

Davis returned Thursday from a vacation and today was busy cleaning up administrative matters. Officials in touch with the Governor indicated routine work would take his attention only a few days.

Governor Davis refused again today to comment on the charges. Ath-

Yeast Vitamon to Round Out Face and Figure

With Firm Healthy Flesh and Beautifully the Complexion

If you are hollow-cheeked, sallow-skinned, sunken-chested and generally weak or run-down and want to round out your face and figure to pleasing and normal proportions you will find this simple test well worth trying: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking Vitamon regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. Vitamon contains highly concentrated yeast-vitamins as well as the two other still more important vitamins (Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C) and is now being used by thousands. It positively will not upset the stomach or cause gas, but on the contrary is a great aid to digestion, to overcome constipation and as a general conditioner of the whole system. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish like magic under its purifying influence. The complexion becomes fresh and beautiful, the cheeks rosy instead of pale, the lips red instead of colorless, the eyes bright instead of dull. So rapid and amazing are the results that success is absolutely guaranteed or the trial costs you nothing. Be sure you get the original and genuine yeast-vitamins tablet—there is nothing else like it. Get it at any drugstore.—Advs.

NERVOUSNESS, HEADACHE AND STOMACH TROUBLE ENDED

These for Adolph Shields.

"I had had Saint Vitus Dance, and it left me in an awful nervous condition," said Adolph Shields, a well-known Clarkburg, W. Va., resident. "My head ached a great deal, and my stomach was also in bad shape. I had doctored considerably with no results. Two bottles of Nerv-Worth, however, brought me wonderfully, and I feel like a new man. It is a strange fact, but nervous and stomach ills are usually found together, and they are cured by Nerv-Worth."

When the cause of much misery, Nerv-Worth's ability to act in such cases, and not quickly, makes it the ideal medicine for those who suffer from such troubles. If your first bottle does not benefit you, your druggist is authorized to refund your money. Sold by all leading druggists.
